

Just imagine.... All third graders end their school year at grade level or above in reading and mathematics. Intermediate students complete sixth grade easily comprehending informational text in history/social science and science. Middle school intervention classes are no longer needed and replaced by enrichment electives. All kindergarten students come to school ready to learn with preschool provided for all Galt's 4 year olds including children with special needs... At-risk youth with challenging home environments have multiple GJUESD mentors (custodian, teacher, food services cook) who greet them with genuine care, check-in with them daily, and include them in meaningful learning and leadership opportunities. All our children want to come to school.
